

These tech startups managed to grow despite COVID-19 Lockdown

Despite the ongoing coronavirus pandemic, here are some tech startups that have shown growth.

At this moment everyone is talking about the economic slowdown and financial crunches but meanwhile, there are few Indian startups that are growing well. These Startups are on a growth spree and setting the example for others of how to fight with this pandemic scenario. A new 2020 survey conducted in February reveals that many Indian startups had prioritized growth over profitability, but that could change due to the COVID-19 outbreak that has infected thousands and impacted businesses worldwide. Here adding few best-growing startups for your reference. Here's adding a few best-growing startups for your reference:

CloudConnect Communications

CloudConnect Communications, India's first end-to-end cloud and mobile app-based PBX and digital unified communication service. As the country's only regulatory compliant mobile-first virtual network operator, CloudConnect is focused on digitalizing small and medium enterprises (SMEs), very small businesses (VSBs) and small office home office (SOHO) setups that form the very backbone of the economy. The brand's overarching goal is to revolutionize SMBs in the country by completely digitizing their processes.

They have seen 100% growth in their business as they provide remote working solutions and lockdown is all about working from home. They are growing faster than before as people are using more of their solutions to stay relevant.
